

BEST PRESENTATION ROOMS™

HONORING THE BEST FACILITIES OF THE YEAR 2003

If you are speaking or sitting in a world-class presentation room, you shouldn't even realize it at first. The chairs must be so comfortable, the sight-lines so clear, the technology so transparent, that each time you enter the room you will have a great experience in communication and collaboration. These kinds of facilities are few and far between — for that reason we honor the top room designs every year. The prize-winning rooms herein have been judged on their abundance of technology, functionality for meeting and presentation scenarios, and overall aesthetics and beauty. Our congratulations go out to everyone involved in the winning projects.

BOARDROOMS GRAND PRIZE CLEVELAND CLINIC

*Executive Boardroom
Intercontinental Hotel and Conference Center
Cleveland*

The Executive Boardroom of the Cleveland Clinic's Intercontinental Hotel and Conference Center features a classic blend of old-fashioned elegance and up-to-date presentation technology. All multimedia and videoconferencing elements of a presentation can be controlled from a wireless touch panel. Each seat has access to a microphone, AV connections, data and control ports, and power outlets. Behind the scenes, room-monitoring equipment keeps track of everything that goes on in the boardroom, and taped presentations can be immediately played back. When the screens aren't in use, a sliding architectural panel covers them.

THE CLEVELAND CLINIC

*MBNA Auditorium
Intercontinental Hotel and Conference Center
Cleveland*

The MBNA Auditorium, a 500-seat venue at the Cleveland Clinic's Intercontinental Hotel and Conference Center, is used for training, videoconferencing and presenting to medical, technical and civic audiences. Central to the room are a pair of 24-foot screens and two 8-foot rear-projection screens for ancillary materials. A one-of-a-kind "air wall" system enables the 6-ton front walls to be moved into three distinct configurations. All the room's technology is run from a Crestron room-control system. There are also two control rooms for administrators to record presentations, conduct videoconferences, and set up events such as the remote viewing of a surgery for a group of visiting physicians.
